Sanket Magazine

Institute of Health Sciences, around the year conducts various skill development programs, students' seminars and other events for the overall growth of the students, both in curricular and extracurricular aspects.

SANKET students magazine is a publication that aims to produce engaging articles that push the boundaries of current student media, all whilst maintaining a fresh and high level of design throughout, dedicated all students who want to be armed with knowledge, happiness and plenty of inspiration.

Every season we deliver educational yet entertaining articles, spanning the worlds of rehabilitation, social issues, medical thoughts and interesting scholar projects. Our intention was to create this internal community within the students and provide them with this rather information publication where they can explore plenty of inspirational pages, uplifting stories, beautiful illustration and art, inspiring messages and much more.
