2.5.1. - ACADEMIC CALENDER

“The institution adheres to the academic calendar for the conduct of continuous internal evaluation and ensures that is a robust and transparent”.

The Institute of Health Sciences follows a well-defined academic calendar to facilitate continuous internal evaluation, ensuring a systematic approach to assessing student performance. This calendar outlines key dates for assessments, feedback sessions, and review periods, promoting consistency and transparency in the evaluation process. By adhering to this schedule, the Institute fosters an environment where students are regularly informed of their progress, allowing them to identify areas for improvement.

The evaluation process is designed to be robust, incorporating various assessment methods such as quizzes, assignments, projects, and examinations. This multifaceted approach not only evaluates students' knowledge but also encourages critical thinking and practical application of concepts. Transparency is a core principle, with clear communication of evaluation criteria and timely feedback provided to students. This ensures that all stakeholders understand the expectations and outcomes of the evaluation process.

Overall, the Institute of Health Sciences' commitment to a structured academic calendar and a transparent evaluation system enhances the learning experience, supports student development, and upholds academic integrity. This approach ultimately contributes to the goal of fostering a culture of continuous improvement and excellence in education.
